November Big Idea: Generosity	Everyone here at Euclid hopes that you and your family had a wonderful Halloween!
Generosity is making someone's day by giving something away. Generosity is not just about giving material things; it's about giving kindness, support, and understanding to those around you. True generosity comes from the heart, not from obligation. When you give freely and willingly, without expecting anything in return, you're embodying the spirit of generosity. Animal: Bonobo -Bonobos exhibit generosity in various ways that reflect their cooperative and empathetic nature. Did you know bonobos are known for their conflict-resolution strategies, often using social interactions such as grooming to diffuse tension and maintain harmony within their communities? By prioritizing social bonds and cooperation over aggression, bonobos exemplify a form of generosity that fosters peaceful coexistence and mutual support among group members. Color: Honey
