Getting Accepted Into Lincoln

Lincoln's career training programs emphasize experiential, interactive learning activities – you'll do the job before you take the job. Classes taught by instructors with real-world experience combined with focused, career-specific curriculum are designed to accelerate your entry into the job market by offering a shorter length of training. This means you will be learning valuable on-the-job experience before some of your peers do.

Deadlines

An admissions advisor at the campus of your choice can provide the most accurate and current information regarding deadlines for specific programs.

Financial Aid Information

Lincoln's Financial Aid department will work with you to create a financial aid plan to cover the cost of your education, including books and tools.

This can consist of:

- Federal and state grants
- Student loans
- Scholarships
- Alternative funding
- Repayment plans
- Or a combination of options

Lincoln Tech
Paramus Campus is

Strategies For Success

When your training begins at Orientation, you'll make connections with key Lincoln personnel and begin building a network of contacts you can reach out to when it comes time to find your first job. Our Student Success Strategies and Driving Your Performance courses supplement your training by addressing topics related to life skills, self-confidence and esteem-building—so you'll be ready to present the best 'you' to potential employers!
