October Big Idea: GRIT	Euclid School's Officer Lou Officer Lou is a member of the Hasbrouck Heights Police Department assigned to Euclid School
When we show grit, it's our courage and resolve to not give up even when things get hard. Animal: Mustang - Mustang horses are known for having a wild nature, but they can be tamed and ridden like other horses. Mustangs are known to have grit because they have had to live through harsh desert conditions before they began to populate South, Central and North America, where they are known today as a feral horse, not a wild horse. Color: Terra Cotta

Monday, October 31st, students may wear costumes to school. Should their costume not be conducive to wear all day, they will be provided time prior to the parade to change into their customs. We look forward to our Halloween Parade at 1:15 and the class parties to soon follow. In the event of inclement weather (rain), the parade will be canceled.
